

About Adele Weiss of Weiss + Associates

Weiss+Associates was established by Adele Weiss, who has done extensive research in the field of federal income taxation for over 25 years and has combined his analysis into workable solutions for clients.

Mr. Weiss has a masters degree in constitutional tax law. After undergraduate school, he started working in the private sector and later realized the need for deeper knowledge in the field of federal income taxation. The educational process has been, of course, an ongoing one, as there are over 10,000 pages of Internal Revenue Code, not including frequent changes made to it by the U.S. Congress.

Mr. Weiss has continually stressed that the Federal Income Tax is completely lawful within the singular and limited jurisdiction known as the District of Columbia and its U.S. Territories. As mentioned in our Jurisdiction section, you will see the differences between the two existing jurisdictions — both of which are called the United States, one a Constitutional term and the other a statutory legal expression. However, most Americans view the United States as being only a single geographical area.

We provide services to clients receiving the following IRS enforcement actions:

- Notice of Deficiency
- Notice of Federal Tax Lien
- Notice of Intent to Levy

We also help clients in the following areas:

- Revocation of Election to terminate a client's participation in the U.S. Tax System per statutes created by the U.S. Congress
- Convert employment status from Form W-2 "employee" to Form 1099 "subcontractor," the latter of which has no Chapter 24 withholding issues
- Formation of an International Business Company (IBC) which creates a legal entity to protect one's assets and privacy from exposure

The services Weiss+Associates provide are based solely on existing federal tax laws. The results have produced solid solutions with a proven track record.
