

David M. Zuniga- Founder of American Again

Believing that the Internet now gives Americans an opportunity to finally be the self-governing sovereigns suggested in the U.S. Constitution, David wrote the first draft AmericaAgain! Declaration in 2007, then spent 14 months refining the document with the help of constitutionalist and radio show host Mike Church, and legal scholar Edwin Vieira Jr, author of many books including Pieces of Eight, the two volume, 1700-page definitive legal history of the U.S. Dollar, and The Sword and Sovereignty, the 2300-page CD-ROM definitive treatment of the history and constitutional law surrounding the Militias of the Several States.

Having grown up on the Big 'O' Ranch near Laredo raising cattle (50 miles from the Lazy 'G' Ranch belonging to Jeff Bezos' maternal grandfather, where Jeff spent his summers), David was a graduate of the University of Texas (BS, Architectural Engineering) and registered professional engineer having designed commercial and institutional buildings for 28 years. He was a part owner in commercial construction, concrete, air conditioning, and real estate development companies and sole owner of a custom homebuilding enterprise and founded a nonprofit called Heritage Schools that planted four classical Christian K-12 schools in three states.

With his elder brother as Trustee, David established AmericaAgain! Trust in 2009, then wrote This Bloodless Liberty in 2010, conveying his vision for the revolutionary Christian perpetual trust and membership organization that can arrest D.C. organized crime and end Washington D.C.'s control over our lives, even with only half of 1% of the population as members. His 2015 book FEAR The People is the detailed action manual for the mission.

Contrary to doomsday prophecies, David believes that the combination of the tactical force-massing power of the Internet and social media, combined with the 'bridge too far' corruption of Washington D.C., means that Barack Hussein Obama and this criminogenic Congress do not signal the beginning of a Marxist nightmare, but the frantic end of the 150-year hijacking of our Constitution. He believes that Christ and the Constitution still make America the most exciting and blessed experiment in human civilizations, and that this generation has the exciting opportunity to restore our Constitution, that God will again use America to demonstrate His love to a world without hope.

David has been a guest on Infowars Nightly News and many radio programs across America. His blog articles appear on blogs, forums, and alternative media including Freedom Outpost, Sons of Liberty Media, The Washington Standard, Guns in the News, Prepper Recon, D.C. Clothesline, The Liberty Beacon and others.
