

About Lily Tang Williams

I was born in Chengdu, Capitol of Sichuan province, China. You know that in China, there is only one party that is truly in power: The Communist Party. The government which is the Communist Party controls everything: factories, schools, press, hospitals, land, and universities. Growing up there, I never heard of such things like a “private company”. There were no choices of any sort.

I received my law degree at Fudan University in Shanghai, then practiced law in Shanghai as well as joining the Law faculty and teaching law at Fudan. Later, I came to the U.S. in 1988 for a Master’s degree at the University of Texas at Austin, School of Social Work with a minor in Administration and Planning.

After my Master’s Degree, I worked for corporations in Hong Kong and the United States, later becoming a Colorado small business woman and entrepreneur in 2000. I am currently the President and founder of ACM International Corporation, a consulting firm in Colorado specializing in China-related business services. My husband John and I own and manage rental properties in Colorado and Nevada.

Locally, I served as a member and Chair of Governing Council of Challenge to Excellence Charter School in Douglas County School District from 2005 to 2008, and also served on the Board of the Homeowners Association of Rowley Downs in Parker from 2000 to 2002.

I joined Libertarian Party in 2008. I was nominated as Colorado Delegate to Libertarian National Convention in 2012 and volunteered as the District Coordinator for Libertarian Candidate for President Gary Johnson.

My husband John and I live in Parker, Colorado. We are the proud parents of three children.
